PNB impounds passports of 150 wilful defaulters

Punjab National Bank (PNB), the country's second-largest public sector lender, has impounded passports of 150 wilful loan defaulters apart from lodging 37 FIRs against those who are not repaying loans as part of its recovery drive.

- The bank has already declared 1,084 wilful defaulters and published photos of 260 such defaulters in newspapers.
- The state-run bank also plans to leverage data for loan recovery and risk management through a tie-up with an external agency.
- PNB is seeking to access contact details of defaulters, who have good credit record with other lenders and chase the errant borrowers.
- This partnership is a part of the larger strategy to deploy technology to strengthen internal systems. This partnership will not only help the bank with loan recovery but will also help identify and automate profitable lending strategies and minimize credit and fraud risk.
- It claimed that two special one-time settlement (OTS) schemes have already helped accelerate recovery of bad debt, with the average rising from 70,000-80,000 NPA accounts a year to 2.25 lakh accounts during the last 10 months. These schemes apply to small NPA accounts, helping defaulters come out of debt.

RBI makes Aadhaar key to KYC compliance

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) amended its 'know your customer' (KYC) guidelines, making Aadhaar key to conducting customer due diligence by banks and finance companies.

- The RBI has also done away with sections relating to the use of other "officially valid documents" by lenders for address and identity proof.

- In a circular, the RBI said the norms have been revised because the government had amended laws on prevention of money laundering through a gazette notification on June 2017.
- The Aadhaar requirement though is relaxed for residents of Jammu & Kashmir, Assam and Meghalaya.
